Editorial

This is the seventh volume of the Year Book of the Evangelical Church.

So it has quite a history as its background.

The present volume lengthens out its ancestral line in scope and character of contents.

It thus maintains its tradition which is worthy enough.

But the 1929 Year Book is also a pathfinder.

The reader not only will not miss any feature found in any of its predecessors, but will find a number of new items of interest and information.

These are: Outstanding denominational events for the year ending November 1, 1928; leading world events; then there are several interspersed pages of observations by thoughtful writers with reference to passing events.

Some of the departments take less space than in former years, but they hardly omit anything that is vitally informing.

It is to be noted that the articles dealing with the Organizations, Institutions, Activities, etc., of the Evangelical Church were prepared by persons officially connected with the same.

The purpose of the Year Book, like that of all our publications, is to make better Evangelicals. This is not sectarianism but the fulfillment, in terms of greater believers in, and doers for, Jesus Christ, of a movement that thousands are convinced has been just as providential as any found recorded in the chronicles of Christian history.

The Evangelical Church seeks to express its experience, its genius, its kingdom obligation through what is indeed a multiplicity of tangible agencies, but all indispensable to the realization of our mission as a church feeling its obligation to make its activities and achievements the fruitage of its faith.

The distinctive purpose of the Year Book is to bring together such information concerning these agencies as will inform our people, and in turn inspire such denominational coherency and cooperation as will make this machinery far more than so much clatter and clang; indeed, the means of the Holy Spirit's operations in human life.

That there is on the part of many of our members a well-nigh woeful lack of knowledge of the way our denomination accomplishes at least measurably its tasks, is a well known fact.

That this deficiency will be remedied by a perusal of the Year Book, and having it as a handy reference book is more than an opinion its editors hold —there is testimony in not a small volume to that effect.

The editors have really toiled faithfully and over a long period to give the 1929 Year Book in its present form to the Evangelical public.

They need no reward, but they will be gratified to know that it is meeting a real need.

They are of the opinion that it should have a wider circulation among us. Everyone of our preachers, especially our pastors, should have a copy. And it should be in a far larger number of the homes of our laity.

Whoever, therefore, extends the circulation of the Year Book does the Evangelical Church a service, makes a worthwhile contribution to kingdom advance and confers not a small favor upon those who procure it for their own use.

Episcopal Resumé*

BY BISHOP S. P. SPRENG

Four conferences were under my supervision during the year. One of these was in the East, namely the New York. The others, the Minnesota, North Dakota and Iowa were in the great central west. Living in between these two groups, here in Naperville, this was not an inconvenient arrangement. These conferences represent a total membership of nearly 30,000 and about 250 ministers. They occupy strategic territory and each presents challenging opportunities.

The conference sessions were seasons of blessing. There were very serious problems and in some cases almost insuperable difficulties. But that is not strange. With so many varied groups of people, with city and country charges, with the language problem still present in a few instances, and a great variety of ability, talent and temperament among the ministers themselves, one must expect difficulties of adjustment and must be ready to meet them.

The office of presiding elder is becoming increasingly important and is absolutely indispensable under our present system. It is to be regretted that there are those among our laity especially who do not appreciate the value of this office as they should. They are looking at the expense and complain of the routine character of the work of the man on the district. Now it is true the work of the presiding elder so far as the business of the Quarterly Conferences is concerned is more or less routine, but this is due to the perfection of organization in the church and the greater efficiency of the local officials and the smoothness with which the work of the local congregation is generally carried on in these days. But when the annual conference meets the presiding elders are the men who know the situation all over the conference district as neither the bishop nor the local pastors can know them. The conference would be helplessly at sea without the presiding elders. I am not referring to this discontent with the presiding eldership as having any special bearing upon the particular group of conferences over which I presided during the past year, but as a general symptom of changing conditions in the church at large.

No specially outstanding events took place in these conferences during the year. The subject of evangelism is very much to the fore in all of them. Ministers and laymen are manifestly deeply concerned that there should be a great spiritual awakening among us and that it is high time that such a revival wave should come. The universal prayer is, "O Lord, send us a great revival, and let it begin in me, now." There is real distress among ministers over the narrow margin of membership gain which the figures show. There are not nearly enough conversions in our churches. There is too much "marking of time," not enough progress; too much satisfaction with "holding our own," and not enough aggressive effort on spiritual lines.

The subject of religious education is receiving much attention. In this department the younger brethren of the conference are the natural leaders, but the older brethren are as a rule cooperating heartily and efficiently. All feel that the hope of the church is in our youth. If we do not properly educate our children in spiritual things, and do not lead them to a vital experience of the grace of God, we have a meager future before us. We must evangelize in an intelligent, practical way, and we must educate in an evangelistic spirit. The two branches of aggressive work go hand in hand. They complement and supplement each other. Neither can be effective without the other. The Sunday-schools and the Evangelical Leagues of Christian Endeavor can and must make themselves useful and effective in this great task of kingdom building by helping to add living stones of young life to the rising walls of the great house of God.

Financially there has been progress, too. Do we realize that the people of the Evangelical Church contributed last year a grand total of over $7,000,000 for all purposes? It is rather an impressive figure, is it not? Pastors' salaries are gradually being raised to a higher level. New and better churches are being built. The people are showing a wonderful spirit of devotion to the local church. We need to build better churches. We must come to realize how much fine building and equipment means to the credit and standing of our church in the community. And it is only with modern facilities that we can do adequate social, educational and spiritual work. In this also the church must go forward.

There is need of much preaching on proportionate and systematic giving. Tithing must be inculcated by the ministry, both by precept and example. When the people of our church once universally bring all the tithes into the Lord's storehouse blessings without measure will come upon us. The people in the conferences in question in this article are forging ahead in this matter also and the outlook is in every way encouraging.

I appreciate greatly the fine spirit of cooperation which I met everywhere in my work. Our people are loyal and faithful and devoted to their leaders. I received much kindness and love from ministry and laity, and am moved to thank God and take courage.

By Bishop M. T. Maze

For the year 1928 it was my privilege to preside over the sessions of the Colorado, Indiana, California, Ohio and Pittsburgh Conferences. In the latter I was serving for my senior colleague. I also presided over the session of the Kentucky Mission Council.

In all these sessions, in these widely scattered units of our church I saw, and very definitely sensed, evidences, among both ministers and laymen, of high spiritual purpose and a quite unified aim in carrying forward kingdom activities.

In the main the reports from fields indicated faithful and high minded service on the part of pastors and people, and wherever the pastors and people were fully acquainted with the program of the general church and that of the annual conference and cooperated sympathetically in following these programs, in evangelism, the instruction of children and youth, and in missionary activities, good results were secured in conversions and in increasing loyalty and deepening of the spiritual life of the churches.

Where this information was not given to the people and official boards and congregations were not actively interested in conference and general church activities we find dying churches.

It is increasingly evident that in our organization the pastor is the key man on the charge, and where he keeps himself well informed and brings this information to the church, as to the denomination's kingdom activities, in missions, church extension and benevolences, our Evangelical people will respond with devotion and enthusiasm, which will always result in wider visioned and more spiritual local activities.

Evangelism was the key note of all these sessions, comprehending the arousement of the whole church, and the evangelistic challenge to the whole community, by year round activities.

I noted with interest a growing demand from both ministers and laymen for constructive and intensive presiding leadership, in the church's departmental activities, and in strengthening the weaker field units, to the end that the conference may release resources for extension work. A new challenge and larger opportunities are coming to presiding elders.

It is the writer's opinion that there is need in all these areas for a more unified and well planned program of extending the church's influence into the many rapidly growing centers of population.

Many new churches were built and others rebuilt and renovated, and made more adequate for expanding services, giving many congregations larger opportunities.

It continues to be a lamentable fact that too few charges come off the mission list, and in some of the conferences the financial burden of carrying these old missions (many of which could come off the mission list if only the people had vision) makes impossible very important and much needed extension work.

No doubt these conditions could be changed, in many places, by intensive community wide evangelistic campaigns, with a distinctive community survey and effort to awaken a community consciousness.

The conference sessions were characterized by a deep spiritual earnestness on the part of both ministers and laymen, and in the consideration of legislative problems there was a beautiful spirit of harmony and a desire to find the best solution in which laymen were willing to share responsibility and also to join in leadership in a forward looking program of extension.

With very few exceptions ministers and congregations were loyal to our itinerant system, believing it to be the very best for us. And where there are minor disappointments they are met in a fine Christian spirit.

The Sunday services, in these conferences, were very largely attended and Evangelical enthusiasm at high tide.

By Bishop L. H. Seager

I have had the supervision of the Washington, Oregon, Wisconsin, and Nebraska Conferences. The work has not been unlike that of any other year unless it be the increased demand, which comes with the years, upon time and strength. The conference sessions were seasons of refreshing. The spirit, without exception, was manifestly Christian. In each conference new churches hav been erected, while others have been rebuilt or extensively repaired. In practically every instance the chief claim has been to make more effective the work of religious education.

Each of the conferences has held a successful summer assembly. Here religious education, with evangelism in the foreground, has been faithfully stressed. But it is to be noted and greatly regretted that many fields report no conversions, and that almost as many report no additions to their membership. There may be a year of spiritual dearth, but when this continues year after year, it raises a question as to the real seriousness of the pastor, the field, or both, for after all the main business of the church is evangelism, education and conservation. After much of our splendid modern machinery has been set in motion, the net gain is far below what it should be. Too many are lost somewhere between "Membership at beginning of year," and "Present membership." We note a constantly increasing effort to bring up the averages in finance, all of which is laudable, but let no one be less anxious to stress the gathering into the Kingdom of precious souls.

I cannot refrain from calling attention to the great need of more young men of the right sort who will qualify for the great work of the Christian ministry. I venture the statement that there is not an annual conference session where from three to a half dozen, or more, young men of character and training could not be given a worth-while task that would challenge, and bring forth, the very best of which they are capable, and only the best is good enough for such a high calling.

Then, again, it would seem sometimes that so much attention is required to run our complex machinery that very little is accomplished in the way of expansion. Just to "hold our own" is by no means a goal worthy the sons and daughters of God. Should this not be our goal?

Building up, and Sending out?

The East Pennsylvania, Central Pennsylvania, Atlantic, Canada and Montana Conferences constituted my field of superintendency and service the past year. In addition to these, I served as presiding officer at the sessions of the New England and the Michigan Conferences, serving in the place of my senior colleague.

The conference sessions, very largely attended, were characterized by a spirit of brotherly kindness, deep devotion and fervent prayer. They evidenced a unity of desire and purpose faithfully and courageously to grasp challenging opportunities and responsibilities; to live anew and whole-heartedly for Christ and the Church.

Available statistics of conversions and accessions, of churches and parsonages, of educational and benevolent institutions indicated a generally gratifying and encouraging degree of fidelity and progress. And, yet, a spirit of dissatisfaction with present condition and attainment was evident. The vision of a higher and, possibly, better future inspired the conferences to purpose, plan and pray for new victories of grace in Christ Jesus; for that perfect love and full consecration essential to enlarged borders in Kingdom extension.

The Atlantic, the East Pennsylvania, and certain sections of the Central Pennsylvania Conferences operate largely in town and city. No part of the Church offers a more challenging field than these densely populated centers opening new doors for establishing new churches. Whilst generously supporting the various activities and institutions of the Church, these conferences erected a number of very adequate church buildings. But the lack of available men and means leave not a few Macedonian calls unanswered. A large part of Central Pennsylvania territory is agricultural, and has the problem of the rural church incident to over-lapping, and the city trend of the population. A new policy and plan of service has been inaugurated which will be thoroughly tested, before retiring from any community.

My first opportunity to visit the Canada Conference came this year. The welcome was most cordial, the fellowship heartening and inspiring. The history of the conference is rich in faith and prayer, in devotion and victory. The fostering of the work in North West Canada is an eloquent testimonial to their consecration in the establishment of the Kingdom of our God and his Christ in those remote provinces. The organization of the new conference there, and their consequent release from the obligation of other years, means larger opportunity in Ontario. A new day of greater possibility and growth has come for the Canada Conference. Obedience to the "heavenly vision" will assure them victory to victory.

Montana Conference is in its second year. The charges are few, widely separated, and numerically weak. The population is mostly in villages, with vast areas of the state unsettled and uninhabitable. Here is a real field worthy of the deepest sympathy and the heartiest support of the whole Church; a field challenging the deathless devotion of real missionaries of the Cross,—men who are willing to labor, pray and wait for the fruit of their toil.

The year's labors have not been in vain. Heartening successes have attended the varied activities of the Church. But the execution of our programs has revealed the presence of great and insistent needs. Socially, educationally, industrially, politically, these days call for a deeper consciousness of the presence, authority and sovereignty of Him who is "the Christ, the Son of the living God;" of the presence and presidency of the Holy Spirit, throughout our bounds, and in all our churches.

Persuaded that "a spiritual house" built of "lively stones" is more acceptable to God and helpful to the world than temples reared of marble, these Conferences, in special resolution and fervent appeal call for a more general, thoughtful, purposeful, prayerful anxiety and unfailing endeavor for the salvation of men. Aggressive evangelism rightfully and courageously takes precedence as primarily and fundamentally important, and the urge is for ministry and laity constantly, and with confident expectation to secure immediate results in soul-saving the year round.

If, throughout the year, the individual members will maintain the high resolve and holy purpose inspiring ministry and laity during the conference sessions, the results will be certain in the uplift and strengthening of the individual believer, in missionary and church extension activities, in congregational growth, in the redemption of childhood and youth, in community influence for Christ, in more responses of men whom God is calling into the Christian ministry, in a fuller stimulus to every form of missionary, benevolent, educational, and evangelistic endeavor; and, above all, to Christ glorified in our midst.

To this end may all heed the Word: "Stand fast in the faith; quit you like men, be strong." 1 Cor. 16:13. "Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning, and ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their Lord. Blessed are those servants whom the Lord when He cometh shall find so doing." Luke 12:35-37.

BY BISHOP JOHN S. STAMM

The East Pennsylvania United, the Illinois, the South Dakota, the North-West Canada, and the Texas Conference constituted the specific field for service and supervision assigned to me for the episcopal year 1927 to 1928. In the absence of Bishop Breyfogel I also presided at the session of the Kansas Conference. In all these conferences there was evident an earnest, aggressive and fraternal spirit. The conference sessions proved to be seasons of diligent searching after best methods, courageous planning for larger accomplishments, and earnest praying for a new baptism of moral and spiritual power. Such devotion to purpose and soul longing will not fail to bring forth blessed results.

In two of these conferences special interest centered in the merging of the conferences. A year ago the Illinois and the Illinois United Conferences merged into one conference. While some minor adjustments still needed attention, especially in the merging of organization, the spirit of unity and kindly consideration was so manifest and so genuine, that it was clearly evident that the union was one of heart and not only of mechanics. This combined strength of spirit and organization makes this conference a great force for the Kingdom in this challenging field. The East Pennsylvania United Conference is looking forward to a merger with the East Pennsylvania Conference next spring. A basis of union for such a merger was adopted at the session of conference last February, and both conferences are moving forward to this accomplishment with great enthusiasm. The combining of these two forces will greatly facilitate and strengthen the work of the Evangelical Church in Eastern Pennsylvania. The kindly, Christian spirit which characterizes the whole Evangelical Church, and which finds such genuine expression in all these adjustments, proves convincingly that God's special approval and blessings are resting on the united descendents of Jacob Albright.

Two of these conferences are missionary conferences constituting large home mission fields. In Texas the field is large, with the work scattered, and the workers few. The opportunities are challenging. This state is in the midst of great developments, cities are springing up rapidly and the population is multiplying greatly. In this work of expansion and development the church has a large responsibility. Having labored in this state for more than forty years, the Evangelical Church should assume her share of this responsibility. This means a larger program, increased missionary contributions, and more trained Evangelical workers. The Canadian North-West Conference territorially is the largest conference in the church. The reports presented at the conference session in June were encouraging. This field is also large and the problems many. It includes the largest German mission field in America, but the conference includes both English and German fields and the work must be carried on in both the English and the German languages. The missionaries working in this difficult field are manifesting a spirit of self sacrifice and heroism which proves that the day of sacrificial living is not yet past. They are facing their difficulties with resoluteness of purpose, and God is greatly blessing their efforts to build the Kingdom into the hearts and into the communities of this vast and expanding territory. In this conference there are also needed consecrated Evangelical workers.

In all of these conferences the call of the city is making urgent demands. While the rural work still occupies a large place, and needs more attention, the rapid movement of the population toward the cities not only weakens many country churches, but makes work in the city all the more urgent. South Dakota has felt this challenge for several years, and has met it courageously by the erection of splendid churches in some of the larger cities of the state. This is placing heavy financial obligations upon this conference, but the results are already justifying this endeavor. Illinois is facing courageously an almost impossible task. The demands made upon this conference by the work in Chicago and the other large cities in the state are increasingly heavy. At its last session the conference perfected plans to raise a special fund to help in this work. In the East Pennsylvania United Conference the work is more fully established in the cities, but expansion also presses at the door. In both the Texas and the North West Canada Conferences, entrance into cities and the development of our city work is the most urgent need. In some instances the best opportunities are already gone, but we must take up this work if we would make permanent our efforts in these regions. Both of these conferences voted to give this matter definite consideration during this year.

The new program of religious education and the work of evangelism are being pushed in all of these conferences. There is manifest a spirit of earnest endeavor and longing for a genuine revival of true spirituality. Both pastors and laity are striving for a more efficient church. In all of these conferences splendid revivals were reported during the past year, and personal evangelism is being stressed more and more. While here and there some people seem to be somewhat disturbed over the changing of methods and the introduction of new plans, yet more and more the essentials of the Christian life are being stressed and everywhere there prevails an optimistic spirit in these conferences. The whole program of the whole church is receiving more and more consideration, and support. The Evangelical forces are marching forward to larger conquests.

By Bishop S. J. Umbreit

Our status as a church in the portion of Europe served by the South Germany Conference has greatly increased. The Evangelical Church is known and respected in all social and religious circles. We are far beyond the stage of a private sect. We now stand side by side with the former state church, in school work, social service and all departments of German life. In many sections of the conference new missions were established, and in not a few places we moved out of kitchens and dining rooms into large and commodious preaching halls. On some country fields of the conference revival fires burned brightly during the winter months, from thirty to forty seekers were secured in some places. However, in the large cities, no such spiritual movements were enjoyed. What may be the cause of this situation? A preacher answers this question as follows: "Perhaps we do not understand the soul of the city or is it because we are not sufficiently consecrated to the work of soul saving, or is it that even the greatest among us is too small for the difficult work of these large metropolitan centers?" Then, too, our membership has not increased during the past year. This has caused more discussion in South Germany circles during the year than at any time since the organization of the conference. Some fields added from one to thirty new members to the church, while others had no increase. Still others reported a decrease. In all there was a net gain of only two members, so that the membership now stands at 12,561. However, our missionary who looks after the scattered members in the conference reported a list of about 145 persons whose names do not appear on our church records, but who declare themselves members of the Evangelical Church. Moreover, many friends of the church were publicly received, so that our actual constituency has increased by several hundreds.

The Swiss Conference is pushing its boundaries out from year to year. Four new preaching places were taken up. Unfortunately two old ones had to be abandoned. The territory of the conference, not including southern France, consists of 245 preaching places. Three hundred and ninety six new members were received and 286 conversions are reported. No congregation reported a deficit, although the financial situation is far from satisfactory. On four circuits new chapels were built. The Zofingen church and a number of others were thoroughly renovated, in Frutigen and Gontenschwil new churches are in course of construction. Since the great world Sunday-school convention in Zurich, 1913, the state church has awakened to the value of Sunday-school work, so that free churches find it increasingly difficult to hold their own in this sphere of church activity. In 1916 the Swiss Conference reported 18,317 Sunday-school pupils, today the report shows only a membership of 13,958. This should drive Sunday-school workers to greater consecration and more strenuous activity in order to compete with friends in a similar field, but especially to fight against the enemy of the cause of Christ. In our catechetical classes 527 children received instruction, and 113 Sunday-school scholars united with our church. Our mission in southwest France had a very much better year than any since the establishment of the mission, the missionary reports doors of opportunity open on every side. In Alsace-Lorraine the authorities are interfering with our work, refusing us the privilege of public activity and demanding that all our ministers be natives or at least two years resident in the country before active Christian work by them should be done. This conference has serious problems to solve, such as how to secure adequate houses of worship and the necessary finances to meet the ever increasing demand of a growing church.

According to statistics 1164 united with the church in the North Germany Conference during the past year. This includes the difficult missions in Poland and Latvia. There was, however, a loss of 1068, so that the net gain is not very encouraging. Some of these losses are accounted for by the change of national boundaries and a compulsory emigration from Poland and Latvia. Then, too, we constantly lose members to South America and the United States, but too often for the sake of convenience members are reported as having withdrawn. Thus, in the last eight years, no less than 2791 were lost in this way from our church records. Financially there is some progress to report. The conference raised $720,630 for all purposes. The conference report reads: "With present business conditions we must be very economical and avoid every not absolutely necessary expense. The only way for us is to increase our memberships and thus the financial ability of the congregations. In one congregation a convert gave $250 to our missionary operations. The great need of this conference is houses of worship. At a few places new chapels were erected, but too many congregations are without a church home. In Tabarz a church is now in course of construction, and in Muehlheim-Heissens the preaching hall was considerably enlarged. Churches or chapels are needed in: East-Berlin, Gesundbrunnen, Friedenau, Leipzig, Erfurt, Zittau, Hannover, Hamburg, Walburg, Herges, Barmen, Bottrop, and many other places. Rents are on the wing, as for example in Leipzig we pay $150 and Cologne $175 more rent per year than formerly. This seriously cuts into the budgets of all the congregations. This conference, too, has an almost boundless mission field. With the necessary men, women and means her curtains can be stretched, her stakes strengthened and her cords lengthened. The work is the Lord's, and surely as he gives opportunities so will he give strength to possess the land.

Outstanding Denominational Events

Nov. 1, 1927 to Nov. 1, 1928

First Meeting of Board of Religious Education

The General Conference meeting in Williamsport, Pa., in October, 1926, took action authorizing the organization of a General Board of Religious Education whose purpose "shall be to foster, promote, correlate, supervise and make effective the work of religious education as done in and by the local church." To carry out this purpose, annual conference and congregational boards auxiliary to the General Board shall also be formed.

BOARD OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION
First Meeting, Grace Church, South Bend, Ind., November 3-6, 1927

The membership of the General Board is constituted as follows: 1. Two bishops elected by the Board of Bishops. 2. Three editors of the literature of religious education, elected by the Board of Publication. 3. The general secretary, elected by the General Conference. 4. Ten members at large, seven of whom shall be laymen experienced in religious educational work, elected by the General Conference, having been nominated by the General Board of Religious Education at its session prior to the General Conference. 5. The directors of religious education of the annual conferences.

The General Board convened in its first annual meeting, November 3, 1927, in Grace Evangelical Church, South Bend, Ind. The following officers of the Board were elected for the quadrennium ending 1930: president, Bishop J. F. Dunlap; vice-president, Bishop L. H. Seager; treasurer, R. G. Munday. The general secretary of young people's work, at this time, Rev. E. W. Praetorius, is by virtue of this office the recording secretary.

In this the first meeting of the Board due attention was given, and appropriate action taken with reference to Evangelism, Missions, the Sunday-school literature, the Curriculum of Religious Education of the Evangelical Church, Administration and Promotion, etc. The slogan, "Some Form of Young People's Society Work Done in Every Congregation," was adopted.

The Budget adopted for the ensuing year called for $13,290.

The Board noted the passing during the preceding year of Dr. Christian Staebler and Rev. W. C. Hallwachs, both of them vitally connected with the work of religious education by virtue of their connection with the Boards of the Sunday-school and the E. L. C. E., whose successor the General Board of Religious Education is.

Albright Memorial Church

Washington, D. C.

After a former unsuccessful attempt to locate a mission of the Evangelical Church in the nation's capital, the undertaking was renewed about three years ago with a survey and finally the purchase of a site, 150x176 feet, at Fourth and Rittenhouse Streets in that city. The church there erected is located between Fort Stevens and Fort Slocum built during the Civil War for the defense of the capital.

The church unit here built occupies the entire northern section of the site. It fronts on Fourth Street and is 67 feet wide and 134½ long. The building is built of Stonehurst quarry stone (a mica and granite composition) while Menser cast stone was used for the trimming. The Italian rake joint was used in construction which sets the stone off to best advantage. Mr. Cooper, secretary of the Washington Y. M. C. A., stated that the Evangelical Church had established a precedent for type of construction and beauty of stone work in the District of Columbia. The design is Gothic of the scholastic period. The church stands on a terrace and makes an imposing appearance from every approach.

An international religious leader said that "In all his travels, he had never seen a building as complete and practical in arrangements." This unit which is in a large way a religious education building is being used for the present also for purposes of regular worship. The cost was approximately $125,000.

ALBRIGHT MEMORIAL CHURCH, WASHINGTON, D. C. Dedicated, November 6, 1927

Dedicatory services were held Sunday, November 6, 1927, with Bishops S. C. Breyfogel and M. T. Maze, and Rev. J. W. Thompson, presiding elder of the York District of the Central Pa. Conference, in whose confines the new church is located, in charge. Large audiences were in attendance all day, and the tide of enthusiasm ran high.

Rev. G. E. Schnabel is the present pastor of this field.

Red Bird, Kentucky Mission, Hospital

The erection and dedication of the new hospital at Beverly was no doubt the outstanding event of the year on the Kentucky moutaineer mission. It is a two-story frame building and cost approximately $20,000, including furnishings and equipment. Among other equipment it is provided with an X-ray machine, the gift of a friend. Besides thirteen private rooms the building contains a large waiting room, doctor's office, clinic, kitchen, dining room, two bath rooms and a full basement in which are found the boiler and fuel room, the laundry and vegetable cellar. Several rooms have been arranged on the third floor for the helpers to be employed. The hospital is not fully completed and the Board will need to make provision for certain essentials.

During the last eleven months of the official year of the mission, a total of 5,861 treatments were given through its medical staff. The total number of outcalls made was 620. The total number of people seen on these calls was 1,039. In the improvised hospital in the girls' dormitory fifty-six cases were cared for in the hospital. Of these, sixteen were surgical, two obstetrical and thirty-eight medical. The average time in the hospital for each patient was eight days. Of the fifty-six patients, nine were workers, thirty-one students and sixteen were outside patients. Many of the instruments used were a gift of the sainted Dr. Illes of Lancaster, Ohio.

The efficiency of the medical work of the mission is greatly increased through the new hospital.

The hospital was dedicated Sunday, August 31, 1928, with the sainted superintendent, Rev. J. J. DeWall, in charge, and Bishop S. P. Spreng and Mrs. Sarah Ernest Snyder officiating as the principal speakers, with Dr. Ralph E. W. Spreng, of our China medical staff, also speaking.

(See cut of hospital as Frontispiece.)

New Publishing House, Stuttgart, Germany

The former Publishing House of the Evangelical Church in Stuttgart, Germany, being found inadequate for its growing business, steps were taken for its enlargement by adding three stories to one-half of the former building and erecting a new building on the vacant lot adjoining it. These operations resulted in enlarged stock rooms, the addition of an electric power plant, large office space, better facilities for bookbinders, the store, etc. The third floor has four apartments, the fourth floor a conference room, two rooms for guests and stockrooms. The new building is furnished in "Eisenbeton", which has a high holding capacity. The cost of construction was $109,520.

In 1872 the publishing foundations of the Evangelical Church in Germany were laid in Nuertingen, Wuerttemberg. In 1878, the removal to the new quarters in the "Zions Church", Schlossstrasse 78, Stuttgart, took place. In 1900-1901, the new building at Senefelderstrasse 109, Stuttgart, was erected.

The work on the new house was begun March 21, 1927, and the dedicatory services held March 27, 1928, with the members of the managing board together

West Side General Hospital, St. Paul, Minnesota

From the day of small things, from modest beginnings, the West Side General Hospital in St. Paul, has at last come to its own, to fine, splendid proportions, to vigorous, healthful growth. Necessary changes were made in the hospital to conform to the plan of the new building.

From the first to the fourth floors this new hospital includes many modern appliances, the approved instruments for thorough examination of the human body as well as such for the most delicate operations. The building shows neither lack nor waste. From floor to floor patients and visitors are conveyed in an elevator operated automatically, with absolute safety. A fine equipment is the modern sanitary Frigidaire system for cooling and chilling, and for heating a fine large oil burner was installed in the basement.

The cost of the new building was $100,000. It is deeded as the property of the Evangelical Church.

The dedication of the hospital was held Sunday, May 27, 1928, and was in charge of Rev. J. M. Baitinger, superintendent, to whose energy and business capacity the new hospital is largely due. As principal speakers on this occasion Bishop L. H. Seager represented the church and Governor Theodore Christianson of Minnesota and Mayor L. C. Hodgson of St. Paul, the extra-denominational interests.

Gov. Christianson, in his address, alluded to the appropriateness of the dedication of this hospital in the month of May, calling attention to the facts that in this month the national hospital day was observed and the great Red Cross organization was called into existence.

New Western Publishing House

For years there was a very general feeling that the "old" Publishing House at 19th Street and Woodland Ave., Cleveland, Ohio, was inadequate for an expansion of denominational and commercial business, as even more it was felt that the location was becoming increasingly undesirable. A very substantial and easily readaptable building in a favorable location, owned and run by the Wooltex Company, was for sale. The Board of Publication, after due consideration, decided to purchase this building and the contract was signed.

The building is 292 feet on Superior Ave., and approximately 150 on 19th St., and was already, when acquired by the church, remarkably well adapted for publishing house purposes. The building has three floors and an attic which with some reconstruction would constitute the fourth floor. The total floor space of the building is 110,000 square feet. It consists of three sections, so to speak: The central portion and the east and west wings. Reinforced concrete was used in the construction. The floor-carrying capacity is 250-300 lbs. to the square foot.

Remodeling was promptly begun, the major portion of which consisted in the conversion of the third floor of the north wing into handsome and convenient suites of offices for the use of general officers located in Cleveland.

Dedication of the new publishing house took place Tuesday evening, Oct. 2, 1928, in connection with the annual meeting of the Board of Publication. There was an attendance of about 600 Evangelicals of the city and other Clevelanders, with a number of Evangelical ministers and laymen from nearby points included.

The exercises were in charge of the president of the Board of Publication, Bishop M. T. Maze. The principal address was delivered by Bishop S. P. Spreng, who spoke on, "The Rise and Progress of the Publishing Interests of the Evangelical Church—New Berlin and Cleveland, 1816-1928." The Cleveland City Manager, Mr. W. R. Hopkins, Chief of Police Jacob Graul, (in German), Bishop S. J. Umbreit, bishop of Europe, Mr. Roy H. Stetler, manager of the Eastern Publishing House, Harrisburg, Pa., and publisher C. Hauser all delivered appropriate addresses. The Evangelical Singers' Club of Cleveland, under the direction of Mr. Charles J. Theuer, head of the job order department of the Western Publishing House, rendered several selections. Bishop Spreng had charge of the formal dedication, being assisted by Bishops Maze, Dunlap, Seager, Umbreit and Stamm. Bishop S. C. Breyfogel, by reason of physical disabilities, was not able to be present.

Ninetieth Anniversary of Missionary Society

Events which led up to the organization of the Missionary Society of the Evangelical Church are recited as follows in the "Foreign Missions Day Service", prepared and published by the Board of Missions for the observance of Foreign Day in 1928:

"Four score and ten years ago our fathers laid the foundation of our organized missionary endeavor. Concerning that important event Bishop S. P. Spreng, in his volume, 'The History of the Evangelical Church,' says:

" 'Another important event belonging to this period was the formation of the first missionary societies. This was indeed an epoch in the history of the Church. The subject had been agitated and discussed in the Church paper and by such aggressive men as John Seybert, W. W. Orwig and others. At the session of the Eastern Conference in 1838 a missionary society was formed on motion of W. W. Orwig. This was the first Missionary Society in the Evangelical Church. The exact date of this important transaction is not given, but the Conference session at which it occurred lasted from March 28th to April 4th, 1838. Its object was declared to be 'to make arrangements and provide means for the promotion and extension of the kingdom of God, by missionaries.'

" 'This action of the Eastern Conference greatly stimulated the missionary thought of the Church and resulted in the organization one year later, on March 1st, 1839, of the Parent Missionary Society of the Evangelical Association, as it was then called. On Christmas, 1838, a number of men met in the home of W. W. Orwig in New Berlin, and appointed a committee to draw up a constitution for this purpose. On March 1st, 1839, a second meeting was held in the home of John Dunkel, Union County, Pa., where the new constitution was presented and unanimously adopted. It was organized as 'The Missionary Society of the Evangelical Association,' the name in which it was legally chartered and incorporated, and in which it continued to operate until its name was changed in 1922. Its first officers elected at this time were as follows: John Seybert, President; James Barber, Vice-President; Daniel Berger, Vice-President; George Brickley, Vice-President; S. G. Miller, Secretary; W. W. Orwig, Corresponding Secretary; John S. Dunkel, Treasurer.' "

The ninetieth anniversary of the Society was fittingly celebrated in connection with the annual meeting of the Board of Missions held in the First Evangelical Church, Holton, Kans., October 11-15, 1928. Addresses showing the contributions of the countries in which the church is working to the progress of the denomination were made as follows: United States, Dr. A. E. Hangen; Canada, Rev. W. J. Zimmerman; Europe, Bishop S. J. Umbreit;

Japan, Mrs. J. S. Stamm; China, Rev. C. C. Talbott; Africa, Dr. B. H. Niebel.

On Sunday morning, the ninetieth anniversary sermon was preached by

BOARD OF MISSIONS, NINETIETH ANNIVERSARY SESSION, HOLTON, KANSAS, OCTOBER 11-15, 1928

Bishop S. P. Spreng on, "The Conquest of the World by Christ in the Twentieth Century"; and in the afternoon "Reminiscences" were given by Rev. T. C. Meckel, Dr. B. H. Niebel and Rev. C. C. Talbott out of extended experiences in the field of Evangelical missions in one department or another.

Our Publishing Houses

The Cleveland Publishing House

The Publisher, Rev. C. Hauser, furnishes us with the following information:

The year 1928 forms an epoch in the history of the Publishing House at Cleveland. The activities of the whole year were practically under the spell of relocation. Naturally it affected the output somewhat, and yet, considering the tremendous job it was, things moved along very nicely. Had the contractors lived up to their expected schedule, we would have made a record worthy of mention. Even as it was, with certain conditions about two months behind the time planned, only two of our own periodicals were delivered one day late to the post office, at the same time retaining all the job customers and satisfying them also as to delivery.

During the year we installed five new Mergenthaler typesetting machines, two folders, three new presses, plus other necessary equipment in the composing room, to bring the whole mechanical plant to an efficiency never heretofore attained.

The fact that the whole machinery part throughout the plant, plus every other mechanical device, as glue and metal pots, wax table and embossing machine heads have been electrified, will help to attain the efficiency desired. It also establishes working conditions conducive to good feeling and loyalty.

Besides our own periodicals, as the Evangelical-Messenger, Der Christliche Botshafter, The Evangelical Crusader and the German Sunday-school Literature, we print twelve other periodicals, representing denominational, industrial, civic and racial interests. The gaps between getting out the periodicals we aim to fill with printing of all kinds, from visiting cards to books and catalogues of hundreds of pages. In all our activities we are mindful that we are an institution to serve any good purpose, thus properly representing the church which is responsible for our existence.

The Harrisburg House

The Publisher, Roy H. Stetler, furnishes us the following information:

The year 1928 has surpassed all other years so far in the history of our institution, as far as business and profits are concerned. We have been able to increase our business by $116,000 over the largest year that we have ever enjoyed. I mean by this that our sales have increased $116,000 this year.

We have added the following equipment during the year:

1 Dexter Suction Pile Feeder for Cylinder Press
Extension Delivery for this Press
1 Cross Feeder for Dexter Folder
1 Small Menges Folder
1 Safety Trimmer
1 No. 2/0 Miehle Printing Press
Extension Delivery for this Press
Pile Feeder for this Press

We have renovated all our offices and now feel that we have as fine offices as can be seen in any business institution.

We have made a very happy arrangement with the Christian Alliance Publishing Company, who moved their office from New York City to our building. This arrangement is proving mutually satisfactory. We do all the printing for this company and maintain very pleasant relationship with them.

We employ approximately one hundred seventy people.

The assets of our Eastern House are approximately $800,000.

The publications that we issue for our own denomination are as follows, with the approximate quantities published.

Adult Quarterly	100,000
Young People's Quarterly	34,000
Intermediate-Senior Quarterly	34,000
Home Department Quarterly	13,000
Lesson Leaves	43,500
Primary Weekly	15,500
Beginners' Bible Stories	21,000
Primary Quarterly	19,000
Bible Teacher	15,500
Our Boys and Girls	29,400
Sunday-School Messenger	53,600
Baby's Mother	1,800
Elementary Magazine	4,500
Intermediate Group Graded Quarterly	5,000
Junior Group Graded Quarterly	28,500

The remarkable increase in our business has been made possible by the efforts of our selling organization. We have been able to secure business that amounts to carload shipments, and it is the regularity of our orders that makes it possible to keep our plant operating very steadily throughout each year. In order to secure this business, it is necessary for us to keep in very close touch with our customers in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, and requires the time and effort on the part of the executive force, going every few weeks to New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

The dividend paid the Church last year was the largest it has ever been. This dividend is divided among the annual conferences, part being divided equally and another part divided on a basis of the amount of business given us by each Conference.

For the splendid co-operation of our ministers and laity, we express our thanks, not forgetting that for all our success we are grateful to God.

THE EVANGELICAL CRUSADER

Robertson of Brighton makes this interesting exclamation, "How rare it is to have a friend who will defend you thoroughly and boldly!" The Evangelical Crusader aims to defend modern youth, of which there is such a splendid group in our Evangelical churches, both thoroughly and boldly. This young people's organ is the friend of youth, in turn is making many friends among the youth of the Church. While portraying the eagerness, impetuosity and aggressiveness of youth, it clearly believes in the underlying heroic, daring, Christ-like idealism of youth. This journal feels itself rich, indeed, in possessing thoughtful, tactful, and loyal friends among the ministry and laity who are so cordially supporting its endeavors among Evangelical young people.

Founded in 1896 this young people's journal has had a continuous existence for thirty-two years. Under the editorship of church leaders, such as Rev. J. C. Hornberger, Bishop L. H. Seager, Dr. H. A. Kramer, Rev. C. F. Zimmerman, Dr. Christian Staebler, Bishop U. F. Swengel, Bishop W. H. Fouke, Bishop W. M. Stanford, Dr. C. L. Hunt, Dr. Daniel A. Poling, Dr. W. E. Peffley, Rev. W. C. Hallwachs, and Dr. E. W. Praetorius this journal has enriched the spiritual lives of virtually hundreds of thousands of young men and women, rendering great service in the advancement of Christ's kingdom on earth.

The present editor is Rev. Raymond M. Veh.

Its present sphere of influence under a new name and new policy is greatly enlarged. While distinctly a young people's weekly it represents all the religious agencies dealing with young people through a modern church's program. While containing material for workers in the field of religious education it also aims to present stories, articles and editorials which show youth going forward with high idealism, lofty daring, and successful conquest in a twentieth century "Crusade with Christ."

This 16-page weekly has been designated as the official organ for young people's and adult Sunday-school classes. Churches everywhere are instituting this journal for their groups. Already a subscription list of 16,000 with a possible reading constituency of 50,000 proves the virility and ready acceptance of this journal. In clubs of five or more to one address the subscription price is $1.00 each, in single subscriptions the price is $1.25 per year.

EVANGELICAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LITERATURE

Sixty-five years ago the Evangelical Church began to produce its own Sunday-school literature. No one can go through the files of our Sunday-school publications without being impressed with the increasing number of publications issued to meet the needs of the constituency, the development in richness of content and adaptability to the needs of the different group-ages.

The first English Sunday-school publication of our church was the Sunday School Messenger, authorized by the general conference which met at Buffalo in 1863. The general conference of 1875 ordered the publication of a monthly eight-page illustrated paper for the primary department, and a monthly Sunday-school journal which is now known as The Bible School Teacher.

From these small beginnings our literature has grown to fifteen separate publications with the following subscriptions: Beginners' Bible Stories, 21,000; Primary Quarterly, 19,000; Junior Quarterly, 28,500; Elementary Magazine, 4,500; Intermediate Group Graded Quarterly, 5,000; Intermediate-Senior Quarterly, 34,000; Young People's Quarterly, 34,000; Adult Quarterly, 100,000; Home Department Quarterly, 13,000; Lesson Leaves, 43,500; Bible School Teacher, 15,500; Baby's Mother, 4,800; Primary Weekly, 15,500; Our Boys and Girls, 29,400; Sunday School Messenger, 53,600.

One of the outstanding improvements in our literature dates with the beginning of 1928, when in accord with the action of general conference the denomination issued only lesson materials in the Group Graded Series for the Children's Division. This change came about as the result of a growing conviction that we connot teach children by use of the same lesson materials that meet the needs of their parents and grandparents. The gracious way in which the church received this change is proof that teachers of children appreciate the fact that lesson materials must be graded to meet the needs of child-life.

Another aggressive step was taken during 1928 when the Board of Publication increased the Sunday-school editorial staff by providing an editorial assistant in the person of Miss Edith A. Loose, of Monroe, Michigan. This additional help permits each editor to specialize in one department. The wisdom of this arrangement is already reflected in the improvement of our literature.

The Evangelical Church offers its Sunday schools the following curriculum materials for 1929:

The present editors of the Sunday-school literature are happy to be numbered with that long list of consecrated editors who have labored to produce adequate materials for our Sunday-schools. We are not sure that this list of editors has ever appeared in print.

Those who have edited the English Sunday-school publications of the Evangelical Association are: R. Yeakel, 1864-1872; J. Young, 1872-1876; H. J. Bowman, 1876-1884; P. W. Radebaugh, 1884-1888; J. C. Hornberger, 1888-1900; J. H. Lamb, 1900-1901; L. H. Seager, 1902-1912; H. A. Kramer, 1912-1920; W. C. Hallwachs, 1920-1922.

Editors of the Sunday-school Literature of the United Evangelical Church were U. F. Swengel, 1894-1898; J. D. Woodring, 1898-1902; W. H. Fouke, 1902-1910; W. M. Stanford, 1914-1916; W. M. Stanford, 1916-1922.

The editors since the merger of the two former Evangelical bodies into the Evangelical Church are W. E. Peffley and G. L. Schaller, Associate.

The publisher will be pleased to send sample copies of any of our publications upon request. Our full line of lesson helps and story papers can be placed in any Sunday-school at a cost second to none. If a scholar brings an average of two cents per week to Sunday-school, he pays for a quarterly and one of the Sunday-school papers. There is no good reason any longer why Evangelical Sunday-schools should not use Evangelical literature.

The Missionary Gem is a magazine for boys and girls. It contains stories of a high type, both missionary and character building, reports from mission bands, Bible study and mission study. The price is 25c per year single copies, or 15c in clubs of 10 or more.

GERMAN SUNDAY SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS

The present editor of these publications is Rev. J. E. Klein.

DER CHRISTLICHE KINDERFREUND

In some parts of the Evangelical Church, especially in congregations and Sunday-schools, where the religious services are to some extent conducted in the German language, there is a strong demand for this attractive illustrated weekly publication. The Kinderfreund is not only read by the German speaking children and young people of our church, but also by many of our older members. It has also a large number of subscribers in other denominations. The Kinderfreund began its successful career many years ago when German was the predominant language in our Church. In 1928 it had 7000 subscribers. It is highly valued by those who are able to peruse its contents. It devotes a special page for the benefit of German Endeavor Societies. These helps are to serve the leaders of these societies in their important work in the Church and to stimulate thought in the minds of the workers and members, that they may be able to produce their own plan of the presentation of the truth. Among the former Editors we find the names of C. G. Koch, Bishop J. J. Escher, Bishop William Horn, C. A. Thomas, C. F. Zimmerman, John Etjen and C. Staebler. This paper is published weekly at the rate of 75 cents a year.

EVANGELISCHES VIERTELJAHRSHEFT FUER BIBELKLASSEN

This paper endeavors to meet the demands of our German Sunday-schools. It is highly appreciated by members of our church, and has found its way into a large number of Sunday-schools in other denominations. This paper appears quarterly in a neat paper cover and contains brief helps on the Sunday-school lessons and furnishes some Sunday-school music and other valuable material to shed light on the lessons and the work of the Sunday-school. In 1928 this publication had 10,100 subscribers. The Editors of the "Kinderfrend" were also the Editors of all our Sunday-school publications. The price of this quarterly is 25 cents a single copy or 20 cents a year for two or more copies to one address.

EVANGELISCHES LEKTIONSBLATT

The lesson paper appears quarterly and furnishes its readers with the International Sunday-school Lessons, the golden texts, the chief contents of the lessons and suggested Bible readings for the family circle on the Sunday-school lessons for daily use in the home. One copy, 25 cents per year. Two or more copies, 20 cents per year.

DAS EVANGELISCHE MAGAZIN

By order of the last General Conference, Das Evangelische Magazin—formerly an illustrated monthly publication—was combined with the Christliche Botschafter. The Magazin section in the Botschafter, comprising six pages, presents a great variety of fascinating stories which furnish solutions to the problems confronting Christian readers. In this section are found a fund of helps for the Christian life and for work in God's cause.

The Magazin is also devoted to work among children and young people, and contains in its weekly issue a full page of Sunday-school helps.

It is vital to our German Congregations that all subscribers to the former Magazin and also other members of the church preferring German literature become subscribers of the Christliche Botschafter, the official German organ of the Evangelical Church. These two church papers, combined, are published weekly at the rate of $2.50 a year, and in 1928 had 7825 subscribers.

Missionary and Evangelistic Agencies

The General Missionary Society

BY C. H. STAUFFACHER, Field Secretary, Missionary Society

The Evangelical Church has always been greatly interested in missionary activities. It is a missionary church. Its progress has been due to the fine spirit of missions which has animated her ministry and people. A large per cent of her converts and accessions are secured on the mission fields of the church. The forward steps in the history of the church have been inspired by the spirit of missions. It has been that high spirit of adventure, that heroic daring of the missionary that has led the church to new undertakings and greater attainments in building the Kingdom of God on earth. It remains for the Missionary Society to foster that high idealism for kingdom advancement which has characterized the early fathers of the church and without which we can not worthily follow in their illustrious train nor can we effectively promote the cause of our Master.

The Evangelical Church has a missionary for every 250 members which speaks in no uncertain terms about the outstanding spirit of the Church, her vision of her responsibility, and her attempt to measure up to it. The spiritually minded people of the church are taking this task of the church ever more seriously and are determined that there shall be no retrenchment anywhere but rather that we shall go forward all along the long line of our missionary service.

FIELDS

The missionary fields of the Evangelical Church are scattered over four continents, North America, Europe, Asia and Africa. The missionary spirit of the early fathers caused them to follow the trails of the pioneers as they moved westward in the settling of our country and we still maintain missions in thirty states of the Union, with special missions among the Italians, and the Mountaineers. In four of the Provinces of the Dominion of Canada are found the Evangelical missionaries. When the Church was fifty years old, the first foreign mission was undertaken when John Conrad Link was sent to Europe. We now have 195 missionaries working in Germany, Switzerland, France, Poland, Latvia and Austria. It is fifty-three years ago that our first missionaries were sent to a heathen land when Dr. Frederick Krecker and his associates went to Japan, and twenty-five years later when Dr. C. Newton Dubs opened our work in China. The last great continent to be entered was Africa where we have four families on the roll of missionaries. During the past year on these mission fields the Evangelical Church was represented by 999 missionaries.

MISSIONARIES

It is entirely fitting that we should give proper recognition of the fine characters and faithful service of our missionaries. They came out of our homes, converted at the altars of our church, trained in our colleges, at the call of God and the church, to be our representatives in the conflict with evil on our mission fields. The least we can do is to support them, appreciate them, pray for them. They have not all been perfect ideals of what missionaries ought to be, but as a group they have been well qualified for their tasks, faithful in the performance of their duties, courageous in their undertakings and heroic in trying hours and dangerous places. No church has had a finer company of representatives, and to them we are indebted for the excellent progress made and the splendid outlook for the future development of our mission fields.

PROBLEMS

Evangelical missions have many problems, some of which are peculiar to our missions but most of which we face in common with all other missions. The conditions in China have produced a particularly difficult situation for the missionary officials, the missionaries, the natives and the whole Christian Movement in that land. This condition was not a sudden development, but rather the result of causes reaching back many years. The present policy of the Government, although not as radical as a short time ago, is still too indefinite to make it possible to forecast the course that should be taken in regard to both educational and medical work among the Chinese. The place for strong emphasis at the present time is on the evangelistic work.

The force of workers in Africa, although normally not large, was further reduced, so far as actual work is concerned, by sickness among them. Supt. C. W. Guinter was compelled to remain in the homeland on account of serious operations. The Walter family was forced to leave the field for a time, also Mrs. Armold, because of health conditions. This greatly increased the responsibility of those on the field. The Board of Missions is looking for a medical missionary for this very needy field.

In Japan the great problem is educational. Insistent demands are being made repeatedly for High Schools for both boys and girls. The Board of Missions has ordered a thorough survey of the whole situation so that we may have definite information before we venture into this large field of service.

The countries of Europe present the problem of inadequate material equipment. Many congregations meet in rented halls, and are compelled to move frequently, thus greatly hampering their work. The impoverished condition of the people, due largely to the heavy taxes, makes it impossible for them to provide suitable buildings in which to hold their services. Many appeals for aid have come to the Board of Missions, but sufficient funds are not available to render the assistance these worthy causes demand.

The Italian Mission Council in its last meeting faced the problem of new workers, and these must come from the Italians themselves. The whole Italian work needs reorganization and preliminary steps, looking forward to that end, have been taken.

The great problem in our Mountaineer Mission is to find a man to take the place made vacant by the sudden death of Supt. J. J. DeWall. Brother DeWall was admirably fitted for that type of work, and had endeared himself not only to the workers and mountain people, but also to the leaders in the nearby communities. It was he who inspired others to share with him in its realization. Now some one else must catch the vision and furnish the inspiration. Somewhere in the ranks of the Church may the right man be found to supervise this growing work.

Two great problems confront the leaders in our home missionary conferences: to find well qualified, consecrated men who are ready to tackle hard jobs, and stay with them until they secure results, and to secure sufficient funds to provide adequate salaries for these ministers and suitable equipments with which to do efficient work in the communities where we operate. Without these we can not hope for the greatest possible success.

Nearly every conference has two missionary problems: the "eternal" mission, that is, one which has been on the list of assisted churches for many years and makes practically no effort to come to self-support, and the opportunity to locate new missions in places where there is great need and good prospects for success. To solve the former problem will help solve the latter. Perchance some old missions must be compelled to support themselves, by a decreasing scale of missionary appropriation, and the money thus released used to finance new missions. Here again it is the question of men and money. The fact is that most of our problems are related to men and money. Given these two and successful undertakings can be started in many places.

FINANCES

The missionary enterprise of the Evangelical Church has always been a venture of faith. Each new project and each forward step was inspired by faith, and in no respect has greater faith been shown than in our financial matters. Each year the Board of Missions has appropriated many thousands of dollars, not out of a full treasury, but by faith out of an empty treasury, and that faith has been rewarded by the generous response of our people. The following table will show the amounts given and the average per member, all of which is evidence not only of an enlarging program of missionary activity, but also of increasing interest in our missionary work and workers:

	Amount	Average per Member
1863-1867	$154,563.00	$0.66
1867-1871	211,589.00	0.68

1922-1926	4,037,484.20	4.90
1926-1928	2,330,231.55	5.38

During the past year our missionary budget reached its highest level, and our giving the highest average $5.66 per member. The following is a summary statement of the treasurer:

	Receipts	Disbursements
General Treasury	$344,693.43	$291,969.95

Administration

The missionary interests of the Evangelical Church are administered by a Board of Missions which is selected by the General Conference and which meets annually for the transaction of business. During the interim the Board functions through an executive committee.

The members of this Board serve without financial remuneration. They give not only their time but also their talent freely to the administration of our missionary interests. The overhead expenses are reduced to the minimum by the careful attention of our officials.

Three secretaries give their full time to the work, Executive Secretary-Treasurer G. E. Epp, Field Secretary C. H. Stauffacher and Honorary Secretary B. H. Niebel. The large number of missions, the increasing number of details for which provision must be made, the very greatness of the task demands careful consideration on the part of our missionary administrators, and at the same time calls for the whole-hearted cooperation of every member of the church. The needy world challenges Evangelicals to do their best. The command of their Master, and the inner urge of their Christian heart produce a ready response in the work of sharing Christ with everybody.

The Woman's Missionary Society

By Mrs. John Hobson

The Woman's Missionary Society, organized at a time when it was thought daring and venturesome for women to organize themselves into a woman's organization, and when the majority of good brethren felt they "Could not recommend the bringing of the women into this work," has persevered and faithfully labored on, until today it ranks high in the annals of, not only church, but national and international life and affairs. Today the Woman's Missionary Society stands at the head of all other women's organizations. Two outstanding women in national and international affairs, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, for many years president of the Federated Clubs of America, and Dame Rachel Crowdy, executive secretary of the women's department of the League of Nations, feel that the missionary group have both the message and the opportunity to make this world over if they will, as no other group have.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Evangelical Church is happy to fill its place in the ranks of the missionary groups of women throughout our land. Her membership is not limited to any favored group of women, but is extended to every woman whose heart has been touched with a longing to do her part, however small that part may be, in spreading the gospel message of God's love, throughout the world. Through its program of information, prayer and definite missionary responsibility, the deep well springs of the heart, for the really worthwhile and needful things in life, are touched, leading the women of the church to a spirit of sacrifice, self-denial and consecration, that is yielding a bounteous and fruitful harvest.

This organization now numbers twenty-five Conference Branches, comprising 1174 auxiliaries, with a total membership of 40,842. Forty-three new auxiliaries were organized during the year. Its program may be divided into three distinct phases, namely, educational, devotional and financial.

Under its educational program may be included the following:

The regular monthly meetings with well prepared programs based upon a definite Mission Study Text Book. The two books used during the year were, "A Straight Way Toward Tomorrow," by Mary Schauffler Platt, and "New Paths For Old Purposes," by Margaret Burton. 4240 text books were used.

The reading of missionary books, secured through the circulating library and otherwise, the number of books read being 897, with 8122 readings.

The circulating of the Missionary World, the Missionsbote and the Missionary Gem, there being approximately 19,500 subscribers to the Missionary World, 2183 subscribers to the Missionsbote and 10,000 to the Missionary Gem.

Current missionary events given at the meetings and the reading of numerous leaflets and missionary articles, also form a part of the missionary educational program. Thousands of such leaflets are read every year.

The Missionary Oratorical Contest brings the missionary message to large groups outside of the W. M. S. and is proving a very fruitful department in creating and intensifying missionary sentiment and interest. One hundred and sixty-seven contests were held numbering 711 contestants. Offerings amounted to $1412.

The subject of tithing and stewardship is one of prime interest and importance, and by means of leaflets, sermons by pastors, readings and dramatizations, is kept well to the forefront, 9020 tithers are enrolled, 28298 leaflets on tithing were distributed and 2137 sermons upon this vital subject, were reported.

Group and District rallies and the annual convention, contribute much of inspiration, information and enthusiasm, every auxiliary being requested to send a delegate to the annual convention, and to have a part in group or district rally.

Sponsoring Mission Study classes at Summer Assemblies is undertaken by a number of Conference Branches with gratifying success.

Missionary training of the young people and children of the church is carried on through their respective organizations. These organizations, the Young People's Missionary Circle, Mission Band and Little Heralds, carry out programs intensely missionary in character, developing a Christian and missionary intelligence and enthusiasm that bespeaks for the future, a missionary minded constituency. The Y. P. M. C. numbers 386 Circles with 10,604 members and offerings amounting to $38,835. The Mission Band enrolls 518 Bands with 14,564 members and offerings totalling $14,338. The Little Herald Rolls number 379,- with 7638 members, and an offering of $3067.

The devotional life of the Woman's Missionary Society is nurtured by means of the devotional service at the regular meetings, it being given a prominent and important place on every program.

The observance of Self Denial Week and the Annual Day of Prayer has become one of outstanding importance to the whole church. Nine hundred and eighty-seven auxiliaries responded to the call, the first Sunday of each February being designated as "The Day of Prayer." The offering of $23,433 was devoted to the work in Africa. Many auxiliaries also participate in the World Day of Prayer, promoted by the Federation of Women's Boards of Home and Foreign Missions.

The public Thank Offering Meeting may also be listed under the devotional life of the Woman's Missionary Society, cultivating as it does the spirit of thankfulness and gratitude, not only through expression in prayer but also through gifts by means of the Thank offering boxes and the distribution of leaflets; 23242 thank offering boxes were used, and with offerings received at the public meetings, resulted in the worthwhile offering of $39,404; 10689 Thank Offering leaflets were distributed and 921 public Thank Offering meetings were held.

Intercessory Prayer and Life Enlistment, stress the importance of intercession, the missionaries being particularly included in this intercessory prayer plan. The enrollment of life recruits, followed by personal interest and counsel, is proving to be a valuable and practicable plan. There is no greater need in the program of the Church than that of enlisting well qualified young people for service, which is the objective of this department.

As to its financial obligations, the Woman's Missionary Society has the sole responsibility of the missionary work in Africa, Kentucky and among the Italians in Wisconsin; the support of all single lady missionaries, The Tokyo Bible School in Japan and Kindergartens, nurseries and children's work, including a Home for Needy Children in Tokyo. The budget for 1929 is as follows: China, $25,000; Africa, $12,790; Japan, $51,255; Italian, $8,669; Kentucky, $25,195; Immigrant, $525; Home Missions, $5,000; Foreign Missions Conference, $175; Migrant Work, $175; Dues, Council of Women for Home Missions, $75; Dues, Federation of Women's Boards of Foreign Missions of North America, $50; Joint Council Work, $50; Christian Literature for Women and Children of Orient, $75; total $129,034.

This money is raised through monthly dues, (an optional sum), the spending of days with missionaries at $2.00 a day, the thank offerings, Day of Prayer offerings and gifts and the assuming of specific objectives by individuals. The total amount of money raised was $229,608.

The members of the Woman's Missionary Society have caught the spirit of efficiency in carrying out their program of work. A standard of efficiency, stressing every department of work, is bringing its members to an appreciation of the work done, as they strive toward attaining each item of the standard. Nine auxiliaries won every point in efficiency, 54 won 130 or more points, while 234 auxiliaries won 100 or more points, thereby becoming gold, blue and red seal auxiliaries, respectively.

The Membership and Periodical Campaign conducted annually in October, is an important publicity and promotional feature. Many new members and new subscriptions to the missionary periodicals are received through this effort. Out of 718 campaigns held, 188 reported detailed results, which totaled 753 new active members, 93 associate members, 564 new subscribers to the Missionary World and 380 new subscriptions to the Missionary Gem. A gain of 2282 new members for the year was reported.

The goal for the quadrennium is the doubling of the membership. Plans were inaugurated at the meeting of the Woman's Board in Aberdeen, South Dakota, for an intensive campaign for new auxiliaries and members, the remaining two years of the quadrennium. Approximately but one-fourth of the women of the church are enrolled. Never has Christian womanhood been challenged as it is being challenged today. Through the Woman's Missionary Society a wonderful opportunity presents itself to the women of the Church, to help meet this challenge and to make their own lives full and rich and gloriously useful. No woman can enter heart and soul into this work without having her mind quickened, her horizon broadened, and her spiritual nature made sensitive and sympathetic.

Considering the immensity and importance of the work, it seems incredible that so large a proportion of the women of our Church have not yet identified themselves with this live organization. To double the membership it will be necessary for many congregations, who do not yet have a Woman's Missionary Society, to fall in line, and help to enlarge, not only the membership, but the work in Kingdom extension as well. As leaders of the congregations, pastors would bring a real blessing to the women of their churches by bringing them in contact with this organization. May we depend upon you to do so?

The Commission on Evangelism

Of this commission Bishop John S. Stamm is the general secretary.

The major emphasis in the evangelistic program of the past year was the enlistment of the local church. Three things were especially stressed. First, each local church was urged to make a study of its own membership and church community to ascertain what is the most urgent evangelistic need and inviting opportunity. Second, in the light of the findings of such a survey, each church was requested to determine its own evangelistic activity and responsibility, and assume a definite part of the evangelistic program of the whole church. Third, to make operative a vital evangelistic spirit, each church was asked to give itself sincerely and wholeheartedly to the release of those spiritual forces through which alone the evangelistic endeavor will succeed. Prayer, Bible study, testimony, personal evangelism and unyielding loyalty to Jesus were stressed. As a guide in the effort to enlist the co-operation of the local church a "Suggestive Program of Evangelism" was prepared and sent to each pastor. Through our church papers as well as personal correspence the work of evangelism was repeatedly emphasized and the various aspects set forth.

This movement implies much promotional work. In the several conferences, conference commissions are urging and directing this work. In conferences district and group rallies were held through which the work of evangelism was brought to the attention of both pastors and people. These group meetings have been very helpful in bringing evangelism into its rightful place in the program of the whole church. At summer camps and assemblies evangelism is also receiving an ever enlarging place. In several schools of Leadership Training, classes in evangelism were included. Through correspondence, personal visitations, addresses, sermons, and conferences the general secretary assisted in giving a clearer meaning to the work of evangelism, deepening the evangelistic passion and working out the evangelistic program. If reports are trustworthy there has been progress in this most important work.

The Commission on Evangelism is continuing its co-operation with the Commission of the Federal Council of Churches with great profit. Through these contacts the movement in our own denomination is brought into fullest possible co-operation with the general evangelistic movement in all the churches.

The emphasis for this next year is training for evangelism. If we are to succeed in this effort there must be definite and thorough training. The commission is ready to assist the local churches in outlining a training course.

The Board of Religious Education

The General Board of Religious Education has its headquarters in the new Publishing House in Cleveland, Ohio, occupying the suite of rooms number 311.

Dr. E. W. Praetorius is the general secretary. Here are centered and promoted the general and denominational interests of the Sunday-school, the Evangelical Leagues of Christian Endeavor, the Vacation Church School, the Week Day School of Religious Instruction, Catechetical and Pastor's Classes, Brotherhoods, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and kindred agencies, Leadership Training, Camp Conferences, etc. Here organized classes are certified, Leadership Training papers graded, credits, certificates and diplomas issued, instructors, deans and schools are accredited. Here promotional literature is produced and circulated, and a large correspondence is conducted; the statistics are gathered and the official records are kept.

Through the General Board of Religious Education, the Evangelical Church has a clearing house for her religious educational work, and makes contact with the interdenominational agencies of religious education: the International Council of Religious Education, the International Society of Christian Endeavor, the Interdenominational Commission on Men's Work, the Boy's Scout Movements and kindred interdenominational agencies.

At least once each quadrennium the leaders of religious education gather in a general convention, which for this quadrennium, will meet in Naperville, Ill., August, 1930.

Once each year the General Board, composed of two bishops, three editors of the literature of religious education, the general secretary, ten members at large, seven of which are laymen, the Conference Directors of Religious Education and a special youth representative, meet to transact the business of the Board. The session of 1928 was held in the First Church, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The work of this Board is financed by the local churches, through the Conference Boards of Religious Education and by the Board of Publication, which latter Board appropriates $2,000 annually to the work of the Board of Religious Education.

The Bible Society

By C. Hauser, Treasurer

The Evangelical Bible Society is pursuing its good and benevolent work in a quiet and unostentatious way. It is distributing Bibles and Testaments free of cost to needy and worthy people. In doing this it is a great help to all missionary activities.

Last year we distributed 136 English, 24 Italian and 6 German Bibles; 24 English, 36 Italian New Testaments; and 36 Gospels. All requests for help are favorably considered.

While the income is not large yet we are not lacking funds to meet all demands so far. Some day financial help may be forthcoming so that our own church may publish the Word of God by its own presses. We are still hoping and praying for that to come to pass.

In the meantime deaconesses and pastors knowing of worthy people who cannot pay for a Bible and are desirous to have one may send in their requests. Thus the good work of spreading the knowledge of God may continue.

Deducting indebtedness leaves the net productive endowment $640,000.

North Central College maintains three schools, a College of Arts and Sciences, a School of Music, and an Academy. The college proper offers degree courses in Liberal Arts, in Commerce and Business Administration, and in Home Economics, as well as education, pre-medical, pre-law, and pre-theological, and Christian-workers courses. The School of Music offers degree and diploma courses in piano, organ, voice, violin, and public school music.

Graduates of accredited four-year or senior high schools are admitted without examination on the certificate of the school principal providing the same shows completion of fifteen acceptable units, including three units in English, two in mathematics, one in science, and one in history. Those not offering foreign language must take an additional year of the same in college.

The expenses per semester are estimated as follows: Tuition, and incidental fees, $75; Laboratory fees, $5; Board and room, $135; Total, $215. (Books and supplies, laundry, and personal expenditures are not included.)

Albright College

Albright College, located at Myerstown, Pa., on the main line of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, is thirty-three miles east of Harrisburg and twenty-three miles west of Reading, Pa., in the center of the beautiful Lebanon Valley. The institution was chartered as Union Seminary at New Berlin, Pa., in 1856, but it has been operating at Myerstown, Pa., under a new charter granted in 1895.

Dr. C. A. Bowman is president, Prof. George W. Walton is dean, and Dr. A. E. Gobble is registrar.

The students for the most part come from Pennsylvania and adjoining states, a few are listed from distances as great as Iowa and Maine.

The control of the college is vested in trustees representing the Pennsylvania Conferences of the Evangelical Church.

The academic interests are in the hands of an unusually versatile and cosmopolitan faculty representing at least nine different Protestant denominations and as many as thirty different colleges and universities in this country and Europe.

No official estimate has been placed upon the value of the plant and the appliances. Conservative estimates made by impartial commissions have placed the value at from $550,000 to $750,000.

The endowment—fixed investments and regular income capitalized—amounts to $435,100, in addition to which there are other investments amounting to $7,146.91. The institution is therefore worth more than a million dollars, against which there is practically no indebtedness.

The scope of work done in Albright covers the usual courses in Liberal Arts, Sciences, Education, Music and Fine Arts, with the degrees of A.B., B.S., and B. S. in Education.

Fifteen units are required for admission—the equivalent of graduation from a first-class four-year high school.

The tuition alone is $200 a year. Tuition, boarding and room together for the year costs $515 to $540. The entire expense for a year may be estimated at about $600.

The faculty has oversight in matters of conduct, but there are well organized student-government associations for men and for women respectively, which help materially in the solution of the questions of conduct and discipline. There are the usual Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., three literary societies, Oxford Fellowship for young ministers, Debating Club, Science Club, Press Club, and special organizations representing several special departments.

The enrollment is nearly 300, nearly all of whom are regular college students. The preparatory department was abolished when the college was placed upon the list of fully-accredited American colleges. The college holds membership in the Association of American Colleges, Regional Association of Middle States and Maryland, Pennsylvania Association, etc., and its graduates are admitted on most favorable terms to the graduate schools of all universities. Because of excellent work done by Albright graduates in some of these schools, special courtesies in the form of scholarships and fellowships have been extended during the recent years.

In addition to the Record, which is published quarterly, there is a weekly publication of the Albright Bulletin under the auspices of the students, the Speculum by the junior class, and the Hand Book by the Christian Associations.

The first graduates went out in 1859. The total number of graduates to date is 934, of whom 350 were women and 584 men.

The following constitutes the Board of Trustees: Rev. E. A. Miles, C. E. Sayres, M. D., Rev. G. A. Collin, Rev. A. D. Gramley, Rev. W. S. Harris, D. S. Kistler, M. D., Geo. H. Leininger, Hon. C. A. The officers of the Board are: Dr. A. A. Winter, president; Dr. H. F. Schlegel, secretary; George H. Leininger, treasurer.

The history of the past five years and the present status lend force to the resolution adopted by the Board of Trustees to maintain and improve the quality of the service rendered by the college in Myerstown and to so build and furnish the college when its larger program is about to be consummated that all the friends of the college, students, teachers, patrons, the Church, and society in general shall feel proud of the institution and any connection which they may sustain toward it.

Evangelical Homes

Ebenezer Orphan Home

The Ebenezer Orphan Home is located at Flat Rock, O., near the city of Bellevue.

Rev. F. W. Huebner is superintendent and Mrs. F. W. Huebner is matron.

The Home was established in 1866, the Ohio Conference taking the initial steps. A building was procured in Tiffin, O., and opened in July, 1866, with eight children. It was moved in 1867 to its present location.

The Home has a large main building, three large cottages, a hospital, new laundry, central heating plant, three dwellings, three barns, and a modern school building just completed. The farm consists of 386 acres, and is stocked with 43 head of Holstein cattle, from 50 to 100 Durock hogs, 10 horses and 700 chickens.

Children between the ages of two and twelve years, if well and mentally normal, are eligible for admission. Full orphans and neglected children are placed into foster homes, or kept until they reach the age of sixteen or eighteen years, and then placed with Christian families. Half orphans are dismissed when father or mother remarries.

The Home provides for all of its children an eight grade course in the Home school, and to those who remain it offers a high school training. Thirteen are attending high school this year. High school students are encouraged to attend college, state normal, or a trade school. With the completion of the new school building a course in manual training will be offered. A band was organized during the past year. Those desiring may take private lessons in music. All of the children receive training in singing.

The older girls receive a practical course in Home Economics, and derive general experience in housekeeping, cooking, baking and sewing. The boys have a splendid opportunity to learn horticulture, farming, gardening, dairying, buttermaking, laundering, engineering and poultry raising. Most of the work is done with modern machinery, and the latest means and methods are employed.

In addition to the products yielded by the farm it requires $48,000 to operate the Home, including general improvements and repairs in the Home and on the farm exclusive of new buildings.

Sources of income are: Cash returns from the farm: amounts paid for care of children where a parent is living and able to pay; interest from the Endowment Fund; Christmas offerings and other contributions; a small percentage from the General Budget.

The Home has an endowment of $203,752.80 which has been built up from bequests during the past years. During the year $2,585.80 was received for the endowment and $1,035 for the new school building.

Our special needs are an increase in our Christmas offerings, special gifts in order to liquidate the debt incurred in the erection of the new school building, an increase of our endowment fund, and a greater interest among the various organizations to prepare clothing for the children and household supplies for the Home.

Two long-felt urgent needs were met during the year—the new laundry completed, and a modern, two-story school building, 78 x 101, of fire-proof construction, with five class rooms, manual training department, and auditorium, erected.

The Evangelical Home

The Evangelical Home, chartered in 1912, is located on a farm of nearly 200 acres, near Lewisburg, Pa., purchased in 1915, and taken possession of by the trustees in April, 1916.

Dr. A. A. Winter is superintendent. Mrs. J. H. Ryder is matron of the department of the aged and Mrs. Caroline M. Workman of the orphanage.

Buildings: Administration building, two large dormitories for guests, central unit of orphanage group of buildings, two-room school house, two individual cottages, two tenant houses, central heat and power plant, two bank barns, two garages, wagon shed and poultry houses. The estimated value of these buildings and the land is $567,800.

Nine children were received during the year and ten discharged. There are at present fifty-nine children in the Home. A total of eighty-five have been taken care of since the orphanage was opened in 1922.

Children between the ages of three and twelve, with no vicious habits, with no contagious or incurable diseases, who are either orphans or half orphans, are received. They are discharged at eighteen. Elementary and high school education is provided.

The following organizations are maintained for and by the children. Mission Band, Intermediate C. E. Society, Boys' Band, Girls' Saxophone Octet, athletic teams, and singing classes.

There are seventy-eight old people at present in the Home, of an average age of seventy-seven years, three months and fourteen days. There is no fixed admission fee. Every application is considered on its own merits. Any needy and worthy member of the Evangelical Church not having a dollar receives the same consideration as those who have money. To date 173 have been admitted.

The Home has no endowment. The amount required annually to run the Home is $40,000, of which $7,000 is produced by the farm. Other sources of income are, admission fees of guests, support of children, which is rather meager, budget fund, Mother's Day offering, Woman's Auxiliary, voluntary contributions and donations from individuals and organizations. During the year bequests brought $3,000.

Anniversary Day, the Friday prior to the first Sunday in August, brings an average offering of $1,500.

Larger gifts are needed for the maintenance fund. The sources of income have not increased in proportion to the old people and children received. Cash donations, canned fruits and jellies, groceries, bedding, clothing, etc., are always appreciated. The Home also pays five per cent on annuity notes.

Ebenezer Old People's Home

The Ebenezer Old People's Home is most fortunately situated at the corner of the so-called Ridge Road and Union Road, from Buffalo, and is in direct communication with this great and busy American city, by two electric car lines and a railroad.

The Home is located on a hill and offers from all its rooms a pleasant view of the surrounding sceneries, either the gardens, rivers, cliffs, and parks of the country, or the busy factories of the nearby city. The city limits of Ebenezer is three miles distant. Thus we enjoy all the advantages of the city combined with the healthy pleasantness and seclusion of the country.

Mr. George Kohlert is superintendent and Mrs. Kohlert is matron.

The Home was formally opened September 3, 1897, being a child of the New York Conference.

In 1923 the General Conference accepted it as an institution of the whole church, with Rev. and Mrs. M. Pfitzinger as superintendent and matron.

The official name of the institution as it should be used in bequests, deeds, and all documents is: "The Ebenezer Old People's Home of the Evangelical Church at Ebenezer, Erie County, N. Y."

The buildings consist of a strong two-story main building and two wings which form a pleasant court with porches, open toward the south. The main building has a fine veranda toward the north in almost its entire length. Both these porches are well provided with rocking chairs during the warm season of the year, so that the old people always have a shady place outdoors on one or the other of them.

The buildings offer all modern accomodations and comforts. The bath and toilet rooms are supplied with hot and cold water and have sanitary open plumbing. In the basement are the laundry, store-rooms, cellar-rooms and the boiler of an excellent hot water heating apparatus.

A large garden adjoins the buildings, being at once a source of healthy work and exercise for the guests, and of fresh vegetables supplies for the table. Well kept lawns, flower-beds and fruit trees give to the whole a very neat and home-like appearance.

To bring the comforts and safety of the guests to a perfection, fire-escapes were erected on such a plan, that each room has an outside exit independent of the halls and stairs inside the buildings and can be reached from the outside at any moment.

The Ebenezer Old People's Home has many needs. Its current expenses are large and its extraordinary expenditures for repairs and improvements amount at times to thousands of dollars. It is a recognized charitable institution and depends to a great extent on the contributions from annual conferences, on gifts from Ladies' Aid Societies, Young People's Societies and Sunday Schools, and donations and bequests from philanthropists and members of the Church.

All persons desiring admission into the Ebenezer Old People's Home of the Evangelical Church must present a satisfactory recommendation to the executive committee, and pay the minimum admission charge of one thousand dollars.

Since the Home was opened there have entered 202 aged pilgrims, of this number 118 have gone to their eternal reward, 60 left the Home and 2 were dismissed. At the present writing there are 22 guests in the Home. The average age of the guests is 77 years.

Our annual Donation Day is usually observed on Memorial Day, at which time our good friends remember us liberally with their financial and material aid.

Western Old People's Home

The main building is valued at $160,000, Superintendent's home at $10,000. There are about ten acres of ground valued upward of $10,000. Barn and other buildings are worth about $6000.

The Home is equipped with a chapel. Nurses and doctors are provided for the guests. The Home owns several cars, and the old folks who can go are taken to church.

The budget last year was $18,0000. About $250 are required for each person per year.

The Home is supported by entrance fees, donations, the Finance Commission, and endowment.

The endowment is about $30,000.

The average age of the members of the Home is 79 years plus. There are at present 72 members in the Home. Terms of admittance are arranged in each individual case. The institution has cared for 173 during its existence. Donations from Ladies Aid Societies, Sunday-school classes, churches, and individual gifts, have been received during the year. We do not have a set Donation Day, but we receive eggs, canned fruit, and vegetables, and so forth at any time.

Haven Hubbard Memorial Old People's Home

This Home is located near New Carlisle, Ind., and was founded in 1920.

The superintendent is Rev. D. D. Spangler, and the matron, Mrs. D. D. Spangler.

The Home itself is a fine, large building, with all modern conveniences. There are two farm buildings besides. The farm, upon which they are located, and which belongs to the Home, consists of 117 acres.

Besides food and shelter and comfortable home surroundings the guests are provided with medical attention and nurse's care when ill, and are given a Christian burial when they die. There is religious worship in the Home.

Seven thousand dollars are required annually for the expenses of the Home.

There is no endowment.

There are 55 guests, and the average age is 75 years.

The terms upon which guests are received are, good health, good moral character, and an admission fee.

During the history of the institution a total of 98 persons have lived in the Home a longer or shorter period.

Several small annuities have been received during the year.

Those who wish to help the Home can do so by bequests, annuities, cash, and the donation of canned fruits and live stock.

Pacific Evangelical Home for Aged People

The Pacific Evangelical Home for Aged People is located at Burbank, California.

The Home was founded in 1923.

Mrs. Cora E. Huston is superintendent and matron.

The Home consists of a three-story building, containing sixty-four rooms, of which fifteen are furnished. It has kitchen, dining room, library, etc.

Every need of the guests, both physical and spiritual, is provided for.

There is no endowment.

The Home is supported by annual appropriations from the Finance Commission, rally day offerings, especially in the California Conference, and special gifts.

There are eight guests at present, with an average age of 77. A total of twenty has been cared for during the history of the institution.

The minimum life membership fee is $2.000.

Donation Day was introduced in 1928, and was observed in the month of November.

Philadelphia Evangelical Home for the Aged

This Home is located in the city of Philadelphia, Penna., N. W. Corner Hunting Park Ave. and York Road, in one of the finest sections of the city, facing the beautiful Hunting Park. Rev. C. E. Bast is superintendent, and Mrs. K. Danner, matron.

Forty years ago the Home was formally opened to receive members of our own Church and others, where they could spend the evening of their lives in peace and comfort.

Since the Home was opened there have entered 210 aged pilgrims. Of this number 150 have gone to their eternal reward, 20 have left the Home or were dismissed. At the present there are 41 guests in the Home. The average age is 77.

During the past year six passed away and twelve were added. It is the desire of the management not only to care for the bodies but also for the souls of the guests.

Without care or money they can eat their meals, rest on comfortable beds and spend their time to their liking.

Every morning after breakfast there is family worship, every Wednesday noon prayermeeting, and Sunday forenoon worship in the chapel. These services are well attended.

To care for the family in this large city about $14,000 is needed annually, besides the donations we receive.

The average cash cost for each person in the Home for the past year was $7.25. Through the new order of things overhead expenses and the cost of maintenance are increasing.

Because of this fact the Home must appeal for larger contributions in the regular Mother's Day, Anniversary Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas offerings. Buildings and lawns are kept in first class condition. During the early part of summer all the wood work on the outside of the buildings was renovated and painted.

The imperative need at this time is more room to accommodate the many applicants who cannot be received. There are fifty applications on the waiting list.

Let our slogan be: "A Greater Philadelphia Home For the Years to Come."

Other Boards and Organizations

The Board of Forward Movements

Secretary J. W. Heininger writes of the Forward Movements as follows:

When the Forward Movement took its first steps, first under the Board of Missions in 1918, and then under a plan adopted by the General Conference of 1919, the Forward Campaign was just getting under way. The objectives of both of these Movements comprehended the quickening of the spiritual life of the Church through stimulation to the development of a larger prayer life, an intenser evangelism, a more general practice of Christian stewardship and the raising of funds by "extra" offerings for the various Boards and Institutions of the Church.

Tabulation of the results of these Movements in terms of achievement with respect to most of these objectives is impossible, yet some idea of the effectiveness of the Movements may be gained from the report of the Forward Movement alone to the last General Conference. This report showed that in the first three years of the Movement, during which unusual unity of mind and effort characterized the Church, a registration of 15,712 enlistments in a covenant of prayer was secured; 13,741 enlisted for the maintenance of family altars; 10,561 for the practice of Christian Stewardship, and 1,067 for life service. During these same years, the numbers of conversions and accessions increased. Relative to the financial goals, exact reports are possible:

THE FORWARD MOVEMENT FUND

Goal	$2,500,000.00
Amount pledged	2,872,067.80
Amount raised as of Aug. 31, 1928	2,156,864.35
Per cent of goal raised	86%
Per cent of pledged amount	75%
Amount raised in year closing Aug. 31, 1928	80,375.64
Paid to the beneficiaries of the Fund	1,865,000.00
Per cent of appropriation to beneficiaries paid	76%
Paid to annual conference on oversubscription	128,933.50
Cash	26,701.24
Total cost to date	5.7%

THE FORWARD CAMPAIGN

Goal	$1,000,000.00
Amount pledged	984,069.00
Amount raised as of Aug. 31, 1928	621,497.00
After making necessary adjustments the percentage of pledged amount raised is about	75%
Amount raised during year closing Aug. 31, 1928	3,305.95

In these Movements, our Evangelical people have demonstrated their ability to pay off the bond issue.

The Board of Church Extension and Bureau of Church Architecture

Rev. H. Franklin Schlegel, is the Executive Secretary-Treasurer.

The Board of Church Extension was organized October 23, 1899.

In the first year of its history its total income was $69.98.

Its assets August 31, 1928, mounted to $462,503.14.

It has helped to establish more than six hundred churches.

During the past year the amount of $102,500 was placed in the erection of new churches.

The net increase for the year in resources over the previous period amounted to $33,435.88.

The purpose of the Board is best expressed in the language of the Discipline: "The object of the Board shall be to gather, care for and distribute funds for the purpose of giving aid to needy and deserving congregations in the building of churches and parsonages, or for giving relief to churches that may be in serious financial embarrassment. The Board shall be especially solicitous to aid in the erection of churches upon new missions where it would be impossible to build a church without aid."

The terms upon which the money is given is in the form of loans at a nominal rate of interest and for a period not to exceed five years, which limit of time is fixed by the Discipline.

At this time the amount of $452,888.44 is working its helpful ministry in churches representing every conference of the Church.

The funds of the Board are built up through voluntary contributions from individuals or congregations, by bequests, memorial fund gifts and annuity contracts.

The Annuity Contract Bond offers a particularly attractive form of helping this work and at the same time bringing a sure return to the individual.

There is no better or safer way to provide for a permanent life income than to invest in an Annuity Bond. There are some outstanding reasons that make an Annuity Bond both a good and safe investment. Note the following:

1. The bond is not taxable.
2. The interest is always paid promptly.
3. There is no inheritance tax on such a bond.
4. The security is absolutely safe.
5. There is no concern about reinvestment.
6. The money is never idle. Its ministry goes on.
7. The investor enjoys the good that the money does.
8. The investor has the satisfaction of knowing that the money is doing the service that he or she desires.
9. There is no fluctuation of value. The Annuity Bond always remains at par.
10. It is one sure way to "Honor the Lord with thy substance."

The Memorial Fund offers another attractive form in which to honor the memory of parent, child, friend or pastor.

Contributors to this Fund will be kept informed as to the churches to which the memorial has been granted as a loan to help construction work, and the congregation will also be informed as to the person in whose memory the memorial contribution has been made.

The calls for aid from this Board are greatly on the increase, in fact it is difficult to have the resources of the Board keep pace with these calls.

The Board of Church Extension earnestly solicits the interest and support of the members and friends of the Evangelical Church to assist us by their gifts and annuity investments in order that the wonderful development and building program of the Church may not be hindered.

We invite inquiry and correspondence concerning this work and as to any of the several ways in which our resources are increased. Address all matters to The BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION, THE EVANGELICAL BUILDING, HARRISBURG, PA.

The Board of Education

The functions of the Board of Education are (1) to encourage and assist in every way possible the cause of higher education throughout the Church; (2) by publication and distribution of literature to disseminate more general knowledge of the value of a Christian education, and a well-trained ministry, and thereby to awaken a better appreciation of our institutions of learning and of the necessity of a more liberal support for them; (3) to make such recommendations to the boards of trustees of our several educational institutions as will tend to make them more effective; (4) to designate the time and manner of observing Education Day throughout the Church and to urge its proper observance; and (5) to report its work to the General Conference and to propose such plans as it may deem necessary to make its work more effective.

The Board of Education holds annual meetings alternating among the educational institutions. The meeting for 1928 was with Schuylkill College, Reading, Pennsylvania, on October 23, 1928.

During the year the Board has promoted the observance of Education Day which was fixed, in co-operation with the Board of Religious Education, for Sunday, May 6, 1928. Through the generous co-operation of the editors, special education numbers of the Evangelical-Messenger, and the Evangelical Crusader were issued to supply information to our people concerning our educational institutions, their services and their needs.

The Board has promoted among the annual conferences the making of plans to look after Evangelical students in colleges and universities within their own bounds.

The Board maintains membership in the Council of Church Boards of Education, comprising some nineteen denominations. The secretary is chairman of the College Committee of this Council.

The Board of Education seeks to promote the highest interests of Christian Education within the Evangelical Church, and to secure more loyal and adequate support for the higher educational institutions of the Church. To this end it appeals to the ministers and laymen of the Church to send their young people to the Evangelical institutions of learning, and to support them with their prayers and gifts.

Charitable Society

The Charitable Society was "formed for the purpose of relieving the distress and supplying deficiencies of itinerant and superannuated ministers of the United Evangelical Church who remain in connection with, and continue subject to the order and control of the general conference, and also for the relief of the wives and children, widows and orphans of such ministers."

The Resources are $5,985.89 in cash and $38,875.00 in securities.

The Society paid to the annual conferences the amount received from them since the merger, and other disbursements amounting to $741.70.

At the next annual meeting of the Society, Jan. 9, 1929, it is probable that action will be taken to pay to the participating annual conferences a proportionate share of the accumulated interest, as the said conferences paid into the treasury of the Society in 1922.

The Society has already taken action that $20,000 be paid into the Superannuation Fund of the Evangelical Church.

The Society is endeavoring to have all securities liquidated as rapidly as possible so that the above-named distributions can be made.

After all the mortgages are satisfied the society will merge with the Charitable Society of the Evangelical Church, as ordered by the General Conference.

Commission on Finance

The offices of the Commission on Finance are located in the Evangelical Building, 1900 Superior Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

Rev. J. R. Niergarth is the financial secretary-treasurer.

This commission was organized in 1915 for the express purpose of inaugurating a system of apportionments and appropriations to the various benevolent institutions of the denomination in the United States and Canada.

Since its organization the commission has carefully worked out a questionnaire for information that it receives annually from the various schools, homes, and benevolent organizations, bearing on their current accounts as to receipts and expenditures. The efficiency of the work of the Commission on Finance is demonstrated in its equitable distribution of all funds received.

During the present quadrennium the commission has taken another step forward in its work in the appointment of a Committee on Survey, the purpose being that a careful study shall be made of the ability of the Church to support its denominational institutions as well as to the nature and effectiveness of the various institutions that the Church is supporting at the present time.

The office of the financial secretary-treasurer co-operates with the conference budget secretaries relative to the apportionments that are made to each individual conference. The Conference Commission on Finance then makes the distribution to the individual congregations. The commission through its officers earnestly appeals to the laity through its pastors for a united and earnest endeavor in each conference to reach its apportionment 100%. A careful every-member-canvass and an intelligent follow-up have proven to be the most effective methods in raising the local conference and general budgets in the local congregations.

The Superannuation Fund

The Superannuation Fund of the Evangelical Church, because of its far-reaching effect in its benificent work, merits the confidence and hearty support of the whole church. Ninety-five per cent of the Itinerant ministers of the denomination have entered its membership.

The financial growth of the Fund is the delight of everyone acquainted with its ever widening helpfulness to the aged and retired ministers' families of our denomination. The Evangelical Church has demonstrated in a very wonderful way the thought expressed in the accepted slogan set up by the General Secretary, namely: "The Disability of Each is the Concern of All."

The Fund stands at $1,600,000 to date, with the assuring prospect that the goal set by the General Conference of two million dollars, will be reached by October, 1930. The Board of Trustees, through its executive committee and officers, is lending itself to this great task with unabated energy and diligence.

Three hundred and twenty-one aged and retired ministers' families are receiving benefits at the present time from the resources of this Fund. The steadily increasing list of these retired ministers' families makes it imperative that the growth of the Fund in its resources and earning capacity be maintained on a parity with the requirements of said list. During the present fiscal year the treasurer, Rev. J. R. Niergarth, will remit to the annuitants now on the list and others who may be added, the splendid sum of approximately $90,000.

The Superannuation Fund of the Evangelical Church is bringing cheer and comfort to those who have been obliged to lay aside the armor and retire from active service. The heart-throb of the whole Church beats sympathetically for these faithful servants of God.

The Sunday School and Tract Union

By E. W. PRAETORIUS, Secretary

The Sunday-School and Tract Union is one of the benevolent institutions of the church, that is quietly, but effectively, ministering to the needs of the church by issuing and distributing tracts and useful religious literature, by making some religious publications possible, and by assisting needy Sunday-schools in furnishing a limited amount of literature. The members of the Board of Religious Education are the members of the Board of Managers of the Sunday-School and Tract Union. The following general policies governing appropriations were adopted at the meeting in 1928, which govern the procedure of the Board of Managers:

1. Grants to local churches shall be made only in the form of literature or books of our own publication, or of such publications as may be designated by the Board.

2. Only under special circumstances shall a church receive more than five annual grants of Sunday-school literature.

3. Only under special circumstances shall a grant exceeding the amount of $25 be made to a local church for Sunday-school literature.

Historical Society

Rev. Lyman M. Dice provides us with the following information:

At the annual session of the Central Pennsylvania Conference, convened in Carlisle, Pa., March 1907, Rev. U. F. Swengel (later Bishop) called attention to the importance of a historical society, whereupon the following were appointed a committee to consider the matter: Revs. U. F. Swengel, A. Stapleton, J. D. Shortess, E. E. Shaffer and Mr. H. W. Shaffer. The report of this committee was favorably received and the organization of such society ordered. In pursuance of this action, the society was organized at Carlisle, March 12, 1907. The first officers were: President, Dr. U. F. Swengel; Vice President, Rev. J. D. Shortess; Secretary, Rev. E. Crumbling; Corresponding Secretary and Historian, Rev. A. Stapleton; Treasurer, Rev. J. W. Messinger; Executive Committee, Revs. Swengel, Shortess and Stapleton.

The purpose of the society "shall be to gather and preserve historical facts, books and other literature connected with the origin and development of the Central Pennsylvania Conference, in particular, and the Evangelical Church, in general."

The present membership numbers 210, of whom more than 95% are members of the Central Pennsylvania Conference. The importance of such an organization must be apparent to the membership of the entire church and the society is eager to extend its scope, increase its membership and enlarge its efficiency and usefulness. There should be an auxiliary in every Conference with a general society properly constituted by the General Conference.

Material collected by the society is placed on attractive exhibit in a specially provided room in the Eastern Publishing House at Harrisburg. No visitor to this publishing house should overlook this interesting exhibit.

During the year the following articles have been gathered: A pictorial chart with pictures of early ministers and churches, together with interesting data; a cane made of wood from the first Evangelical church built in the state of Maryland—this church being located near Jarrettsville; an Evangelical Discipline of the edition of 1882; a copy of the History of the Evangelical Church by W. W. Orwig; three bound volumes of the Living Epistle, including all the issues from January, 1870, to December, 1876; a complete set (ten volumes) Evangelical Normal Series, published in 1884, eight volumes being written by Rev. E. W. Radebaugh, one by Rev. U. F. Swengel, one by Rev. A. Stapleton.

Alphabetical List of Preachers

(With Post Office Addresses)

(In a good many cases in the names and addresses given below, discrepancies were discovered in spelling and in places between those given in the Conference Journals and the lists published in the Evangelical-Messenger consequent upon a conference session. In such cases, except where there was certain knowledge to the contrary, the address in the Conference Journal was the one finally taken. Names appearing in the 1928 Year Book that were found neither in the Evangelical-Messenger list nor in the Conference Journal were, for that reason, dropped. The addresses of a considerable number of ministers had to be omitted because they were not given in either list. Although scrupulous care has been exercised in the preparation of this list, mistakes have possibly crept in.)
